Still haven't heard back from the library.

Sorry for so many emails--this is the current level of brain function

Hope your holding on ok too with all those papers.

Have a good evening,
Julie

Also the years for the files that I have are 2000 and 2005 but because they seem to rely on NOAA data it may be the same 1967 bathymetry.

FYI

So I haven't made a whole lot of progress today. I have some promising files but there is a lot of processing I have to do on them, like converting the numbers to values for MLLW. Which is slow and I have to do a lot of troubleshooting. I gave the EPA a call and left a message. I'm in the middle of a process right now but wont finish today.

I have the Mori (attached). I just emailed the library about Burger and Ward et al.

You are a lifesaver! If you could, the Mori and Burger papers would be good. I'm particularly trying to find flushing distances so the Mori paper may be the best bet.

Thank you!

Hi Julie,

Attached is the paper with lit cited of refs I need to look at. I've highlighted the ones I need.

Thanks and sorry!
