Attached is the table with the draft rule provisions and the Colorado Stakeholder Advisory Group. Please note that the SAG report and recommendations are drafted in plain language, not regulatory language. We won't have a citable document with regulatory language until CPW presents the plan to the CPW Commission.

The biggest difference is the state has authority to issue permits (or will develop the appropriate regulations to do so). Solicitors have been reluctant and unsupportive of FWS issuance of permits for lethal take after the Great Lakes ruling several years ago.

Let me know if you want to talk through anything in the morning.
