Subject: Southern Ute Tribe - scheduling virtual consultation in December
Date: Thursday, November 17, 2022 1:45:43 PM

Hi all. I just spoke with Mr. Aran Johnson, the Tribal Wildlife Director for the Southern Ute Tribe. He briefed tribal leadership this morning about the wolf 10(j) and they are interested in scheduling a virtual meeting with tribal leadership in early December. He's going to look at the weeks of 12/5 and 12/12 to see if there are times those weeks that work better for tribal leadership and I am doing the same. He mentioned he had scheduled 2.5 hours and there were few questions and his briefing only lasted 1.5 hours.

The Tribal council meets on Tuesday mornings so the mornings of 12/6 and 12/13 are not available for them. I have the start of list of what doesn't work and need a short list of meeting options to share with them.

Doesn't work:

12/6 morning unavailable for Tribal leadership

12/9 CPW Commission meeting and announcement of state plan. The agenda isn't available yet, so part of this day may be an option.

12/12 morning unavailable for Tribal leadership

12/14 Nicole traveling and on leave

I think we should schedule up to 2 hours and see where the discussion leads and am curious if Amy or Cassie have additional advice for scheduling. We can plan to follow up with either an in-person or another virtual meeting during the comment period for the rule this winter.

Please let me know if you have any questions about scheduling options.
