[CROSS-REGIONAL CONCURRENCE REQUEST] FR 5308 | Final Colorado Wolf 10(j)

Greetings, Recovery Colleagues in Regions 1, 2, 3, 8, and the Mexican Wolf Recovery Program:

We request your cross-regional review and concurrence of our final rule to designate a nonessential experimental population (NEP) in the State of Colorado under section 10(j) of the Act. This follows the incorporation of peer and public comments that we received on our February 17, 2023, proposed rule.

Changes that we made from proposed to final rule consisted largely of updates and clarifications, primarily to names and definitions of terms. The most substantive change is the addition of a take provision for Tribes in Colorado to take gray wolves on Tribal land that are unacceptably reducing ungulate populations (aka the "ungulate provision").

We would appreciate your review and cross-regional concurrence, if possible, by Friday August 4, 2023. You and your colleagues may access the final rule here:

20230717_Final_Rule_CO_Wolf_10j_v1.docx

We recommend opening this file in the Word desktop app when possible.

Please note: Given our extremely expedited deadline, this package is undergoing concurrent review by HQ, PRB, RSOL, R6 RO ES, and R6 OLE. In order to improve our ability to address comments and update the documents, we would appreciate if all internal users added their comments and edits in these shared documents located in this OneDrive folder.

Additionally, if helpful to you, all of the package materials are available for your use here:

20230404_FR5308_Final_CO_Wolf_10j

For your awareness, there will be at least two Federal Register announcements for this action:

- First, the Notice of Availability of the final environmental impact statement (EIS) and the draft record of decision (ROD), which must publish at least 30-days before the final ROD and final rule are signed, so this must publish by October 6, 2023 (must clear DOI by September 29, 2023).

- Yesterday, we received some late-breaking direction to also announce a 10(a)(1) (A) permit in this notice, and we are still working out those details.
- Second, the final rule, which must publish no later than November 15 in order to become effective by December 15, 2023. As a result, the final rule must clear DOI by November 3, 2023.

Our Note to Reviewer \(NTR\) is pasted below for ease of reference. Your emailed concurrence back to me is acceptable, and I will add to our package.

As always, many thanks for your time, expertise, and ongoing support of this project. Please do not hesitate to contact any of us at any time.

Sincerely,

Craig.

This rule would contribute to the conservation of the federally listed entity, the gray wolf in the lower-44 States, and help support the State of Colorado's voter-mandated gray wolf reintroduction program. Changes from proposed to final rule were largely minor - mostly clarifications and corrections - except for the addition of the take provision for gray wolves that may be significantly affecting ungulate populations on tribal lands ("ungulate provision").
