Hi Dawn:

I will be going out tomorrow as today, the area remained closed due to safety concerns at the VLA (Launch site). The launch totally devastated their pad site and knocked out the electrical power so they can't determine safety until they address that. Therefore, they are keeping the area closed for another 24 hr. As soon as I get a chance, Stephanie and myself will be out there and also folks from TPWD.

Thanks.

Here is the briefing paper we sent forward. Seth asked us to provide a map, like where SpaceX is, and some pictures of anomalies by Friday afternoon. Chris can you help?
